

Donn Stoltzfus, A Pennsylvania native, Donn Stoltzfus worked as a consulting geologist before moving to Tucson in the mid-1980's to attend graduate school at the University of Arizona. After a long career with the Phoenix City Manager's Office managing various environmental programs and projects to ensure that city operations complied with applicable environmental regulations, he retired and returned to Tucson. Donn currently serves as Secretary for the FCHOA Board of Directors and chairs the Compliance and Enforcement Committee. Recently he led the adoption of the Compliance Assessment Policy, intended to make the process of CC&R enforcement consistent, effective, and understandable to the community. As a Director he strives to listen to the concerns of the members and promote effective management and solutions to improve our neighborhood and preserve its aesthetics. Donn and his wife, Meg Giancesello, a retired education administrator, have been owners in the Clusters since 2012 and residents since 2021. They chose to live in the community because of the mountain views, desert aesthetics and proximity to wildlife, and have enjoyed meeting many of the highly accomplished residents of the community. Donn and Meg are the parents of two adult sons and enjoy reading, attending sporting events, various volunteer activities, and traveling to the National Parks and wilderness areas throughout the West.
