

Gigi Bainbridge has spent the last 1 1/2 years have been quite an adjustment renovating our sadly neglected house and getting settled in the Foothills. Being semi-retired made it possible to do the renovation work on the house that was needed to make it comfortably livable and lovable. For 2 years prior to moving to Arizona, exploring the US in an Airstream Trailer was nothing short of spectacular. Prior to that, a 22-year long residency in California, found me working as an architect, raising a family, and volunteering in the community. My life and career experiences have provided me with a skill set that could be helpful for volunteering on an HOA Board. So, now it's time to try to snuggle in here!
